

Competition

Parkfields
LLP

In today's global landscape, businesses are experiencing the growing impact of evolving competition laws and the heightened vigilance of competition law enforcement worldwide. Irrespective of whether our clients' crucial competition-related concerns pertain to established or emerging Indian markets, or encompass multiple Indian jurisdictions simultaneously, Parkfields offers prompt and seamless support for their competition law challenges. Our adept Competition Group possesses a well-demonstrated capability to navigate the intricacies of international competition investigations, merger reviews, and legal proceedings within the context of this dynamic and evolving framework.

At Parkfields, our commitment to client success extends beyond the courtroom. We understand that effective legal representation often begins with proactive pre-litigation measures. Our experienced team offers comprehensive guidance and a guiding hand at every step of the legal journey. We work closely with our clients to navigate potential disputes, providing strategic advice to mitigate risks and explore amicable resolutions whenever possible.

Parkfields' Competition Practice is dedicated to providing top-tier legal counsel in navigating the complex and ever-evolving landscape of competition law in India. Our team of seasoned lawyers brings a wealth of experience in dealing with a wide spectrum of competition-related matters, including mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, investigations, and litigation. We take pride in our track record of securing timely clearances from the Competition Commission of India for intricate mergers and collaborations, ensuring our clients' business interests are protected. Additionally, we offer strategic guidance and representation in cases involving cartel allegations, price-fixing disputes, dominance issues, and other competition-related claims.

---

At Parkfields, we advise our clients across diverse sectors such as:

- Securing timely approvals from the Competition Commission of India for exceptionally intricate mergers, acquisitions, and collaborative ventures.
- Providing expert guidance to companies, navigating them through investigations and legal procedures concerning various claims, including merger litigation, cartel cases, price-fixing allegations, excessive pricing disputes, dominance issues, parallel trade matters, geo-blocking concerns, and vertical restraint issues.
- Offering strategic counsel to clients in the context of Competition Commission of India (CCI) investigations and administrative proceedings.
- Coordinating comprehensive strategies for leniency applications and addressing cartel investigations in parallel actions initiated by authorities across the nation.
- Establishing and diligently maintaining comprehensive global competition compliance programs. These programs encompass a spectrum of activities, such as conducting audits, imparting dawn raid training, organizing in-house counsel workshops, and delivering both in-person and online compliance training sessions.

In cases of litigation, we advise with cases involving Section 3 and Section 4 Contraventions. Additionally, we also advise in securing interim reliefs under Section 33 of the competition law framework, and our diligent approach extends to cases involving compensation under Section 52. Furthermore, we offer expert counsel on appeals under Section 53, ensuring that our clients receive comprehensive legal support throughout the litigation process.

At Parkfields, our commitment to excellence extends to every facet of competition law representation, from pre-litigation strategies to the complexities of litigation proceedings.